Coming soon: CareerOneStop for young adults

Scheduled to launch at the end of May, 2016, www.GetMyFuture.org is a one-stop, mobile-ready website to help youth plan their careers, explore education and training options, and search and apply for jobs. The site will serve young people between ages 16 and 24, with special resources for those experiencing barriers to success such as involvement in foster care, addiction, homelessness, teen parenting, or a lack of financial, family, or community resources.

www.GetMyFuture.org was developed with input from young adults and youth program providers in order to ensure it offers culturally relevant and effective tools and resources. Several unique resources were developed for the website, including:

New career videos on CareerOneStop

CareerOneStop has launched the first in a series of new occupational videos that will ultimately encompass more than 800 different careers. CareerOneStop will publish new videos on an ongoing basis. Check back frequently to see the new videos.

The videos give career explorers, students, and job searchers a portrait of life in hundreds of careers—ranging from short-order cook to anesthesiologist. All details are based on authoritative occupational and labor market information from the U.S. Department of Labor’s Occupational Information Network (O*NET) program and the Bureau of Labor Statistics. There are now 21 videos available at CareerOneStop’s New Career Videos.

What’s New with the CMC

The Competency Model Clearinghouse is sporting a new look! If it’s been a while since you’ve visited the site, come and take a peek. The redesign is well underway and features a cleaner, crisper look. The industry model pages feature new navigation and the model categories are now alphabetized for ease of use. The redesign will continue over the next few months, so keep coming back!

The CMC’s Resource Database is now a repository for a wide variety of assessment instruments. More than 150 assessment instrument profiles have been added to the database. These assessments cover many diverse purposes such as behavior assessment, occupational interests, and career planning. The Resource Database’s inventory of assessment profiles is frequently updated. Take a look!
